THE CAFE TEXAN

History Museum & Library

Vance Howard is a Huntsville native who bought the Cafe Texan building in 2020 after it was closed due to the COVID-19 pandemic. With the Cafe Texan being the oldest family owned and operated cafe in Texas, Vance was immediately interested in the property. With space for offices, a cafe and a museum, Vance could see his passion project come to life.

There was no doubt that the Cafe Texan is a Huntsville staple and would be reopened to continue to serve the area with familiar food, but a brand new look. The museum was always a dream just waiting to be brought to fruition, and with many years of planning and the opportunity the new building presented, the dream has materialized as the Cafe Texan History Museum and Library. Giving back to the community is important to everyone involved at Cafe Texan, so the decision to make the company a non-profit was easy. The Cafe Texan not only provides a space for locals to eat, drink, and learn, it also provides jobs to local Huntsvillians. The values of the Cafe Texan are plain to see: preservation of history, giving back to the community, and honoring those who charted the path before us.

This boutique museum is home to an eclectic collection of art and artifacts from all over the world. Step inside and discover the stories behind the objects that have shaped our past. As you explore the museum, you'll be transported to many different eras and cultures.

Learn about the life of Teddy Roosevelt in the Wild West or examine ancient tools & rituals of early Egyptian civilizations. View Napoleon's pistol, read letters from former U.S. Presidents or admire the intricate craftsmanship of Samurai swords. You never know what you might discover at The Cafe Texan History Museum & Library.

Their knowledgeable staff is available to answer any questions and provide insights into the objects on display for an enhanced experience, allowing visitors to deepen their knowledge and understanding of the artifacts. Whether you're a history buff or simply curious about the world around us, The Cafe Texan History Museum & Library is the place to enjoy the rich and diverse history of our world. Pay them a visit and discover the wonders of history!

EXPLORING OUR HISTORY

Founded in 1835 by the visionary brothers Pleasant and Ephraim Gray as a humble trading post, this quaint community was named after Huntsville, Alabama, the former residence of the Gray family. The spirit of unity and understanding fostered through the trading post laid the foundation for peaceful relations with the native Bidai, Alabama, and Coushatta tribes, enriching Huntsville's cultural tapestry.

OAKWOOD CEMETERY

One of Huntsville's most treasured landmarks, Oakwood Cemetery, stands as a testament to the city's historical significance. Designated as a Historic Texas Cemetery by the Texas Historical Commission, this sacred ground serves as the final resting place for numerous prominent figures including, General Sam Houston, Henderson Yoakum, Judge James A. Baker, Joshua Houston, and many others who shaped the destiny of Texas.

GENERAL SAM HOUSTON

Huntsville boasts the honor of being the home of General Sam Houston, a towering figure in Texas history. From his roles as Congressman and Governor of Tennessee to leading the Texas Army to victory against General Santa Anna at the Battle of San Jacinto, General Houston's influence permeates the city's spirit. His legacy as President of the Republic of Texas, United States Senator, and Governor of Texas continues to inspire and enthrall the people of Huntsville.

TEXAS PRISON SYSTEM

Since 1848, Huntsville has been the headquarters of the Texas Prison System. Chosen as the site for the first permanent penitentiary shortly after Texas became a state, Huntsville has played a vital role in the state's corrections system. Today, the Texas Department of Criminal Justice, one of the largest penal systems globally, operates 111 units, with seven located in Huntsville and its surroundings.

OLD TOWN THEATRE

The Friends of Old Town Theatre project was first organized in 1997 as a community non-profit, dedicated to the restoration and reopening of Huntsville's Old Town Theatre on the downtown square. The building had served in its earliest years as a downtown movie theater. Today, the theater hosts music performances, dramatic and musical theater, dance, film and community events. The Friends of Old Town Theatre are proud to offer the theatre to the community as a downtown venue for the arts, and they welcome everyone to join them as they continue to provide quality entertainment and education in the arts.

Main Street

Huntsville, TX

Throughout Huntsville's history, the nine-block downtown area has formed the geographic heart of the city. Today, downtown serves as the heart of Huntsville's large Cultural District. Designated as a Texas Main Street City by the Texas Historical Commission in 2001, downtown has seen huge growth over the last two decades.

RICHARD HAAS MURALS

Richard Haas is an American muralist who is best known for architectural murals and his use of the trompe l'oeil, trick of the eye, style. In the early 1990's, a plan of action involving public and private sectors was devised to bring new life to the center of historic downtown Huntsville. The major components of the plan included a building facade program, master streetscape designs, and plans for historical preservation. As a part of this plan, Haas began designing architectural illusion paintings for the facade of numerous buildings in downtown.

The highly visible changes in the appearance of downtown proved to be a major win in the economic vitality of downtown, as buildings that were previously vacant were now housing antique shops, restaurants, and specialty stores. The Haas murals continue to add beauty and character to downtown and they serve as a reminder of the initial revitalization efforts that helped make the downtown area what it is today.

GIBBS RANCH SHSU RODEO TEAM

Sam Houston State University has a deep-rooted history in supporting the agricultural sciences sector. Since its inception in 1909, the School of Agricultural Sciences has been a pioneer in the field, boasting the distinction of being one of the first programs in the nation authorized to train teachers in agriculture. Over the years, it has grown into one of the largest non-land-grant agriculture programs in the United States, with over 1,000 undergraduate majors.

When it comes to embodying the essence of Texas culture, few events capture the spirit quite like a rodeo. For those seeking an authentic experience, look no further than Sam Houston State University's Rodeo Team and their illustrious Sonny Sikes Arena at Gibbs Ranch. Here, students showcase their skills and celebrate the timeless traditions of horsemanship and cattle handling, reflecting the university's commitment to the preservation of Texas' heritage. From heart-stopping bronco riding to precision roping, each event epitomizes the rugged spirit and indomitable grit that defines the Lone Star State.

SHSU TRADITIONS

EXPLORING SAM HOUSTON'S RICH HERITAGE AND WELCOMING SPIRIT

Welcome to Sam Houston State University, a vibrant institution rich in tradition and brimming with excitement to welcome visitors into our fold. Here, tradition isn't just a word; it's a way of life. As you step onto our campus, you'll find yourself immersed in a tapestry of time-honored customs and celebrations that have shaped the spirit of our university community.

BEARKAT ALLEY

Bearkat Alley is the official tailgate area during football season. For every home game (and for specific away games) the Department of Student Activities hosts a variety of organizations and departments who "camp" out in a designated area at the North side of Bowers Stadium. These groups cook an assortment of foods, which in return is free for all those who attend Bearkat Alley. Also, different giveaways are distributed throughout the season, ranging from t-shirts to spirit towels in order to boost Sam Houston pride.

MARCH 2 THE GRAVE

The March 2 the Grave is the oldest SHSU tradition, going back to 1893, which celebrates the life and birthday of General Sam Houston as well as Texas Independence Day. On March 2nd, Faculty/Staff, Students, Alumni, and the Huntsville community march from the SHSU campus to Oakwood Cemetery for a ceremony at Sam Houston's grave with various dignitaries speaking in remembrance of General Sam Houston.

TREE OF LIGHT

The Tree of Light Ceremony is one of SHSU's oldest traditions, established in 1921. The program has evolved over the years, but several aspects remain constant including the lighting of the tree by the University President, the donation of canned food items, serenading of carols from a vocal group and ending with a rendition of "Jingle Bells" in which the audience takes their keys and "jingles" them to the tune.

THE Raven

In 1809, at the age of 16, Sam Houston ran away from his home in Tennessee and lived among the Cherokees. He was adopted by Chief Oolooteka and given the name Colonneh or the "Raven." He developed a deep, life-long affection for the tribe and considered the Cherokee his surrogate family.

Returning home, Houston became a successful military officer and protégé of Andrew Jackson. He served in Congress and, in 1827, was elected governor of Tennessee. In 1829, his first marriage collapsed. Devastated, Houston resigned from his office and went to live once again with his adopted family. He married a Cherokee woman, Tlahina or Diana Rogers Gentry, became a Cherokee citizen and was actively involved in peacekeeping, trade and other tribal affairs.

After three years, Houston left for Texas. Though he never lived with the Cherokee again, he spent much of his career promoting peaceful and moderate policies toward Native Americans.

Now, Sam Houston's nickname has come to life on campus. A raven sculpture that is over 21 feet tall and weighs more than 7,000 pounds has made its debut in Huntsville as a tribute to Houston's nickname given to him by the Cherokee Indians. The piece was installed in the new plaza next to the Life Sciences Building.

Artist Ed Wilson, who was commissioned for the piece, said it was easy to find a subject to craft for campus.

"I think Sam Houston is one of the most interesting men in American history who did so much for this state and this country," Wilson said. "It really stood out to me that he had the connection to the Cherokee and I wanted to bring that to life."

Wilson is also excited to be able to have his piece displayed at SHSU, where so many minds are shaped and changed on a daily basis.

"I think that campuses are especially important and need art," Wilson said. "I think it inspires creativity in students whenever they see the art. I think that is important for any field you are in; science, math, humanities, English, all students need a bit of creativity in their lives."

ENJOY HUNTSVILLE WITH YOUR FOUR-LEGGED FRIEND

Who doesn't love a pup cup?

Hammock + Sunsets = <3

Embarking on adventures with your furry companion adds a whole new level of excitement to your travel experiences. So, grab the leash, pack some treats, and get ready for a paw-some adventure together!

HITTING THE TRAILS

Strap on your hiking boots, leash up your pup, and get ready to explore the trails of Huntsville State Park! The crisp crunch of leaves beneath your feet, the scent of pine in the air, and the sound of nature all around make this park a perfect hiking haven for you and your furry friend.

PAWSITIVELY DELICIOUS

Most eateries with an outdoor patio roll out the welcome mat for our four-legged pals. Whether you're grabbing lunch or sipping on a cup of joe, chances are your dog can tag along for the good times. Some spots even go the extra mile and dish out pup cups!

SIT, SIP, STAY

At Lucky 19 Brewery, the toughest decision is which craft beer to savor while soaking up the chill vibes. What makes it even better? Your loyal four-legged companion lounging beside you, sharing in the relaxed atmosphere. If you're more of a wine enthusiast, West Sandy Creek Winery or Teysha Vineyard both have amazing patios. Uncork the good times with your pup in tow, taking in the vineyard scenery and sipping on fine wine. It's the perfect blend of hops, grapes, and canine camaraderie – because a good drink is even better when shared with your best furry friend!

A bride in a white lace dress is holding a large bouquet of flowers. The bouquet features a mix of light pink and white roses, white hydrangeas, and greenery. A semi-transparent circular graphic is overlaid on the bouquet, containing the text 'WEDDING PINEY WOODS & EVENT VENUES'.
